The survey, although intended to benefit commerce in reality, has aided in this war for the Union. It has been our pilot over sandy bars on the Southern coast which otherwise it would have been dangerous to aproach, and many a captured town and rebel fort owes its downfall to the labors of sailors and men of science years ago. Of course this noble work has been impaired greatly by the rebels, who, wherever it would do them say good, have destroyed the lighthouses and other landmarks, but still enough remains to be a monument to the greatness of our country.

A PEACE PARTY IN NORTH CAROLINA .- A late number of the Wilmington (N. C.) Journal has an editorial article in denunciation of holds the following significant language:

We have had enough of angry discussions in North Carolina—enough of partisanship in all conscience. We deprecate, we avoid both; we appeal to the people on the merits of the question before us and before them. We wish to be strictly parliamentary in all we say. DALLASBURG, OWEN COUNTY, KY., Messrs. Editors: The election which too place here yesterday was a complete farce, and if conducted the same way all over the State, there can be no doubt as to the floal result. On last Sunday evening a lot of soldiers ar On last Sunday evening a lot of solders arrived and encamped in our little town, and on yesterday morning, when the polls were about to be opened, the officer in command of the troops stepped up to the Judges and Clerk of election and told them the Democratic ticket should not be voted for. If it were, he had instructions to arrest the Judges of the election and told those who voted the ticket tion, and also those who voted the ticket. Whereupon, the officers of the election refused to act. A new set of poll books were then made out, when neither Wickliffe nor any of the names of the Democratic candidates were put down. It was then found difficult to find officers to conduct the election; but by untiring zeal a quorum was finally made up, and the polis were opened at 2 o'clock P M The soldiers got ready to leave early in the evening, when the polls were closed. Bramlette had received 14 votes, all that were case, when the usual vote of the precinct is 150 votes. The construction of the enrollment act now attracting much attention: The question is whether, upon the payment of the the "peace party" in that State, in which it three hundred dollars, the individual is exempt for the whole time which the draft is made, or if they are liable sgain on a second draft, if one should be made before that time has elapsed. Mr. solicitor Whiting has declared that any one providing a substitute is exempt for the time that the substitute is enlisted, but if the money is paid to the Government, then such person may become liable to a second draft. Mr. Cushing holds that the drafted man who pays his commutation money and he who furnishes a substitute are, by the terms of the law, equally is the most extraordinary instance of bold, exempt from subsequent draft during the period covered by the draft under which either of these acts is performed. As Mr. Cushing's opinion carries with it great weight on questions of legal construction, we cite a portion of his argument on this point. It is needless to add that the present ruling of the Provost Marshal General connot be determined as a practical question, either judicially or otherwise, until a second draft under the present enrollment shall have been ordered > ng under this head is as follows: I respond, then, that the payment of the commutation money has the same effect, so far as regards the personal responsibilities of a citizen enrolled and drafted, and ascertained to be liable to military duty, as the furnishing of a substitute, namely, to discharge the party for the three years of that draft.

The act provides, first, that the person duly drawn shall be notified of the same within ten days thereafter by a written or printed. ice, to be served personally or by leaving a copy at the place of residence, requiring them to appear at the designated rendezvous to report for duty," and, secondly, "that any person drafted and notified to appear as aforcperson traited and members appear and may, on or before the day fixed for his appearance, furnish an acceptable substitute to take his place in the draft, or he may pay to such person as the Secretary of War may authorize to receive it, such sum, not exceeding three hundred dollars, as the Secretary of War may determine, for the procuration of such substitutes: . . . and thereupon such persons so furnishing the substitute or paying the money shall be discharged from further liability under that draft."—(Sec. 13) Here the object of the payment of the com-mutation money to the Government is ex-pressly declared to be the procuration of a

Again, we find in the same section that the act, in speaking of the penalty for non-appear ance at rendezvous on notice, has the words "presenting a substitut; or paying the required om therefor."—(Sec. 13).

Here, also, the effect of the procurement of a substitute by the party himself, and that of the payment of the money with which to pro-

What, then, is the import of these words, 'discharged from further liability under the Do these words mean that such perdrait?" Do these words mean that such person so "furnishing a substitute or paying the money therefor" shall be liable to be drawn repeatedly, and subject to this burden over and over again? Or that by either of these things he has discharged his military obliga-

To be sure, the act does not say that the person paying the commutation money shall receive a certificate of discharge from such mutation money is the appropriate document says, is discharge from military duty during the term of the draft. As, however, the per-son furnishing a substitute would not have a payer of the commutation money would have, therefore the act prescribes that to him a cer-tificate of discharge from the draft shall be

It would require, indeed, words of most positive significance and most imperative compositive principles of the act. mand to justify such construction of the act as that the obligation to serve or to provide or pay for a substitute shall revolve continually on a small number of persons, subjecting them to reiterated obligations, while the rest of the community escapes both the personal and pecuniary hardships of the act. such words are to be found in it; they are all the other way.

Inasmuch as the same opinion has been declared not only by the press and people genrally, but by a United States court, it seems to us that Mr. Stanton may reconsider and reverse his decision without loss of dignity and with manifest advantage. We quote the opinion of Judge Cadwalader, of Pailadelphia, from the same case which is elsewhere refer and notified may furnish an acceptable substi-tute, or pay "such sum, not exceeding three general order made at the time of ordering a draft for any State or Territory." Thus the ries, with local cifferences in the bounty money that will obtain a substitute. The commuta-tion money must be fixed by the Secretary of War, at an amount sufficiently great to enable es a fund at the disposal of the War De partment not for its general expenses, but for the specifically defined purpose of procuring a substitute for the exempt. The money is neither a penalty for non attendance, nor an arbitrary equivalent for the military service originally due, but such an absolute equivalent for a military substitute as will afford the sure means of obtaining one in place of the exempt.

If the money paid by the exempt is, as above declared, "for the specifically defined purpose of precuing a substitute" in his place, and cannot be used for any other purpose, and is moreover an "absolute equivalent for a substitute," it must be presumed that it does in fact supply the Government with a substitute. It so, and if thereafter the exempt who has supplied this substitute is again drafted, one man is made to furnish the Government with two soldiers, which clearly was not the intent of the law. Or, if he again pays the commutation, with which the Government gets an other substitute, he may again be drafted, and so before the war is over Mr. Stanton may exact from every citizen who is unable to enter the service an indefinite number of substitutes. It strikes us that such a construction

Of course Louis Napoleon was elected President when the Napoteon was elected President when the military aided "the constituted authorities of the State in support of the laws and of the purity of sufferage." Monday next an election is to take place in Kentucky for State officers. To preserve the purity of the ballot-box, Maj. Gen. Burnside has placed that State unde Gen. Burnside has placed that State under martial law to protect the rights of "loyal" citizens. We reproduce the order of General Burnside as a matter of public interest. The plain English and purpose of it is to exclude the votes of all persons who will not vote for the Abolition candidates, and the legally appointed judges are to be held responsible for permitting any others to be given. Such voters are to be regarded as "disloyal" and "the military power is ordered to give its utmost support" to exclude all such voters from the polls. This is called protecting the "freedom of election." What mockery. The the polls. This is called protecting the "freedom of election." What mockery. THE LABORS OF GRANT.—People have been wondering what the ever-active, never-ceasing worker, Gen. Grant, has been doing since the Fourth of July. He has not been airing his honors, nor parading his laurels, nor blowing his trumpet—nor even, like Hercules, after the twelve labors, has he subsided. The telegraph relieves our anxiety for him. "General Grant has perfected a complete system of mounted patrols between Vicksburg and New Orleans, which, with the gunboats, affords ample protection to vessels." Thus has this great soldier put the finishing touch to the gigantic work which was begun by him two years ago.—[Times.

Vicksburg, July 24.

Gen. Sherman reports to Gen. Grant that the people are the worst whipped and subdued of any on the face of the earth. They are completely humbled, and beg for mercy on every hand. They acknowledge themselves thoroughly conquered, admit their inability to longer successfully oppose the Federal Government, express their willingness to come into the Union again on any terms, and beg of him, in the name of everything sacred, to oppress them no further. Judge Starkie, Mr. Miller, Mr. Pointdex'er, and other prominent men of the State, came forward and proposed organizing a State Government favorable to reconstructing the Union on the best obtainable terms, pledging all the influences they possess against the rebellion and in favor of the Federal Government.

The country between here and Jackson is completely devastated. No subsistence of any kind remains. Every growing crop was destroyed when possible. Wheat was burned in the barn and stack wherever found. All subsistence was brought off or destroyed. Live stock was used, or brought away, everywhere. Gen. Sherman asserts that the people must inevitably leave, be fed by the Federal Government, or starve. OBITUARY. Died in Mercer county, Ky., on Monday, July 27, f consumption, NANNIE, eldest daughter of F. G. for a proposition of the state ras naturally of a quiet disposition, seldom joining in ur recreations, but would oft ne neliven the monotony of the school-room by some withy remark, for which she eemed unrivaled. Only three years have intervened ince she left Science Hill; years fraught with both joy and sadness. I spent the last June of her earthly existence, with her at her home, in Spencer county. She was, or seven monoth prior to her death a c nsumptive invalid, but seemed to suffer very little pain, till near the case of ner life, when ner suderings became intense, yet case of ner life, when ner suderings became intense, yet case of ner life, when ner suderings became intense, yet gived, and seemed to be impatient to meet her Saviour, n whom she placed her trust. To those who so lovingly diministered to her every sand, I would say, you have seen faithful—grieve not—she is now releved from her ufferings. Ever peaceful in life, patient in sickness, aim in death, her life, was a jair model for her bereaved issociates. She has left us—in the very bloom of youth he lamp of her quiet life has ceased to burn—her body low lies cold and stiff in the toab, but her i prit dwebs n you bright Heaven, where she shall sing "praises to he Lamb" forever and ever.

"Dearest sister, thou hast left us, Here thy loss we deeply feel; But, 'A' God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal." WINNIE WOODBINE.

She was the daughter of Thompson and Sally Ware, late of Bourbon countr, Ky. She was married in the fail of 1830, and removed to Missouri in 1841. She made a profession of R-life on and united with the Christian Church, at about twenty-five years of age. Her disease (consumption) assumed an alarming character about the first of July last, associated with neuralists, since which time her sufferings have been great. During the trying veried, she exhibited that panience and resignation which should ever character rize the Chissian. The last words she uttered, just before the exoired, "Lord, if the the will take me," exhibite the character of her is the the will.

France can be Driven from Mexico

Me have to-day received the important information of the surrender of Brashear City to our naval forces. No particulars have been received as yet, only the dispatch from the naval commander, announcing the fact. We shall hear, I suppose, as formerly, that Brashear was retaken by the army, the navy only assisting. There may be some truth between was retaken by the army, the navy only assist-ing. There may be some truth, however, in this assertion; for the advance guard of the army were at Lafourche Crossing, forty miles from Brashear. This information confirms what I have before stated in regard to the rebel army in the Attakapas country being in full retreat towards the frontier, and probably into Texas, and proves how much has been accomplished in this State by the capture of Vicksburg; for even if Port Hudson had fallen from starvation, we should have been but little if any better off than we were three weeks since, had General Grant not been successful. I do not imagine that any part of the property taken at Brashear City will be recovered from the enemy. It has been carried into Texas before this, and is now being need for the hearfit of Magnuder's army. All used for the benefit of Magruder's army. that was taken the enemy badly wanted, and the only consolation we have is in knowing it will not last them any great length of time.

The steamer Omaha arrived yesterday with two hundred and ninety-nine rebel prisoners from Vicksburg. They will be transferred to the steamer North America this afternoon and sent to Mobile. The North America arrived yesterday from Mobile, bringing us dates from that give to the 23d instant. The most excitthat city to the 22d instant. The most excit-ing news contained in the Mobile papers is the reports from Richmond concerning the riots in New York and elsewhere throughout the Northern States, in opposition to the draft. We are all in hopes that Gen. Grant is now directing his entire attention to the capture of Mobile. Military men say, however, that he will not interfere with the Department of the Gulf unless upon-orders from Washington. This may be so, but it can hardly be supposed that "red tape" will interfere with his receiving instructions to occupy the most important position now held by the rebels in the Gulf of Mexico. It is in his power to do so with scarcely any resistance, and Mobile would doubtless surrender when asked to do so, if once invested by the huge army of Gen.Grant Fort Morgan would then come into our pos-Fort Morgan would then come into our pos session, which would give us, with the excep-tion of Galveston, all the ports on the Gulf coast. There has been no order published yet in regard to trade with that section of the coun try recently opened by our victories at Vicks-burg and Port Hudson. There must be a very large amount of cotton between Natchez and Richardson's rebel force, having been driven this place that would find its way to this market if those desirous of purchasing were permitted to do so. to bring cotton to market; for when the tax and other charges are paid but little margin is left to the purchaser.

I heard this evening some very interesting particulars regarding the last moments of the late Commander Abner Read, U. S. Navy. His wounds were very severe, and he suffered terribly until death relieved him; but he never complained. Alout half an hour before he died he remarked to the doctor that he thought his time was short, that all hope of recovery had passed. "Yes," replied the doctor, "you cannot recover, Captain Read, and you have but little time to live." After this was said he had about half an hour of comparative freedom from pain, when he remark-ed to the doctor, "Well, doctor, I do not know that there is any use holding on longer; I guess I will shove off," and with almost the same breath he expired. His last words were in all respects characteristic of the man. He was one of the most gallant spirits of the many in our naval service, and his death will be uni versally lamented. City affirs are as usual. The only excitement we have is occasionally attending the sales of the property of departed registered enemies. Elegant furniture, silverware, pic-tures, statuary and superb sets of crockery are being sold for a tithe of their value, and are cannot appreciate them. The sum total of the sales will not benefit the pockets of Uncle

These boats were scuttled and sunk on Southworth bar, 120 miles above Yazoo City, on the 25th of May last, to obstruct the channel at that point, and their upper works were burned eff by the Federals only a few easys ago.

Steamer Natchez, New Orleans and Vicksburg packet. This boat was being used as a gunboat; she was cotton-clad, 2,500 bales being required for this purpose. While en route for Fort Pemberton, during the siege of that position, and when about sixty-five miles above Yazoo City, she accidentally took fire and the boat and cargo proved a total loss.

Steamer '926th Parallel.' New Orleans and Ar-

Steamer "25th Parallel," New Orleans and Arkansas river packet. This boat was also a cotton-clad, and durling a trip, when thirty-five miles above Greenwood, she ran into the woods and became disabled, where she was soon after destroyed by hupping this was during the siege of Fort Pemby burning; this was during the siege of Fort Pemberton.

Sunflower river enters the Yasoo sixty miles above the month.

Our informant also adds that during his trip of over 300 miles down the river he passed very many localities where vast quantities of cotton were being destroyed by the agents of the Confederate government.

In addition to the list of boats lost or destroyed in the Yazoo, we were furnished with a few others, which we include:

Steamer Vicksburg, New Orleans and Vicksburg packet. This boat remained under the gans of Vicksburg while her machinery was being removed, after which her hull and cabin drifted down the river and were destroyed.

Steamer Charm, formerly owned at Vicksburg, but soon after the occupation of Columbus by the Confederates was sold to the government to be used as a transport.

Steamer Paul Jones, formerly in the N.O. and used as a transport.

Steamer Paul Jones, formerly in the N.O. and Red river trade.

These boats were destroyed by the Confederates at Big Black Bridge.

Steamer Louisville, New Orleans and Louisville

mer Elvira (stern-wheeler). These boats were captured a few days since by a Federal expedition to the Red river and tributaries and are now en route for Cairo, to be fitted up for naval purposes.

Opening of Hostilities Between England and Japan-The British Consuls in Japan Embark for England-Troops Sent for to China.

Extract from a letter from Shanghai, dated May 29, 1863.]

You will hear by this mail that war is about to be declared between England and Japan, for the Japanese have refused to list n to the demands of England, and all Englishmen are leaving Japan. The Consuls are on board ship, and, yesterday, an English man-of-war steamer—the Race Horse—came here from Japan for troops sent to the place from there by Admiral Ruper; but General Brown, the commander of the English forces here, refused to send them. The Admiral sent for a thousand men; but the General would not respond, because the English have mixed themselves up so with the Chinese since the death of General Ward. A Major Gordon, of the Engof General Ward. A Major Gordon, of the English Engineer Corps, now commands at Saung Kong, where Gen. Ward commanded. Gen. H. A Burgevine did command before General Stavely, the in command of the English forces here, who is a brother-in-law to Major Gordon, the present commander of Ward's force of Chinese at Saung Korg. When Maj. Gordon goes out to fight the rebels, the English troops garrison Saung Kong, and there is always a loree of from five to eight hundred Sepoy and English soldiers sent out in his rear, to help him in case he should meet with a defeat. They say they only go to the bounds of thirty miles from Shanghai; but of General Ward. A Major Gordon, of the Engmeet with a defeat. They say they only go to the bounds of thirty miles from Shanghai; but that is all bosh, for who is to measure out the miles when they begin to march into the country? Now Gen. Brown cannot send the one thousand men required, because some of his best officers are at Saung Kong, and sevral of his troops are employed as instructors. The streets of Saung Kong are alive with the uniforms of Her Majesty's 67th and 31st regiments, the Royal Artillery, and a few of the Engineer Corps.

New you see where the English troops are, and if Gen. Brown were to bring them in from the country and from Saung Kong, and to Japan, where his country needs them, then the rebels would attack Saung Kong and other places quickly, and Gen. Brown could not get so much China money now as Gen. Stavely did before him, who is now in England enjoy-

England never interferes with any nation's troubles—oh, no! never!

China is a good market in which to sell her old smooth-bore guns, shot and shell, old muskets, &c.

A few days before General Stavely left here he had a grand review, and the Chinese Governor was there to see the troops, and, among other things, they had some practice, with other things, they had some practice with Armstrong guns. The Chinese Governor was delighted, and wanted to purchase them on the spot. General Stavely could not sell them, but he told the Governor be could purchase for him, when he arrived in Eagland, some fine brass guns smooth-bore that would some five brass guns, smooth-bore, that would do to kill rebels with. So the Governor gave him the job to buy some. The Chinese are very fond of brass guns.

I think the world ought to know how England acts with nations that she can take ad-

A fight occurred at Ta Shang, a large city, and it was taken by Major Gordon's troops from the rebels.

Gen Burgevine has been to Pekin, and had the promise of being reinstated in command of the Saung Kong troops, but owing to some misunderstanding he has not completed his arrangements. A Case FOR a SOLOMON. - The Boston Traveller says:

William H. Cooper, a boy four years old, whom she claimed as her child by a former husband, now deceased. Her present husband is at sea. The writ was given to Deputy Sher-iff Sanborn, who found the child in the cus-tody of Charles Grace, in this city, who has recently beld an important position in one of our rayal vessels.

Grace claims that the boy is his child by his wite (now decreased), who was a sister of Mrs. Ha field. The boy has been in the custody of Mrs H. until about ten days ago, when Mr. Grace got the child away without her consent. A grandmother of the child-the mother of Mrs. H. and the deceased Mrs Grace—had re-cently died, bequesting to the roy a large sum of money (said to be $20,000), and it is probable that the litigation is as much to obtain control of that as to decide the paternity of the child.

Carbara BITTES The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century.

NO MAN'S NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CONthe United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in med cal discovery, than that of Dr. 20ff N BULL, of Louisville, by His Interitable preparation of Saraaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that v. luable drog. His Compound's Perforant or Villa Burkary has become a household word throughout the West any South; and his Worm Lozer ges, in le a than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide-spread as the conflient of North America. But the crowsing glory of his life remains to be attained in his atest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inasbitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two handred years. Armed with it the lingian bits defiance to the most deadly maiar a,
and handles with ut fear, the cost venomeus serpens.
It is a belief with them that while the els breath left in the body the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to indor e this extravagant p etension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to list virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all elseases arising from exposure, either to charge so was her and climat, or to the missionatic influences, it at hids without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

DYSPEPSIA, And its attendant train of symptoms, it ams more like a charm than a madi-ine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Materia Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

Dispensatory, pages 1337 and 1981. the finedition of the U.S Dispensitory, pages 1387 and A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now ensuled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copyer-distilled Bourbon whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the wo.ld.

He might surnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The sefest placing for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the

TISDEL & NASH'S Patent Attachment

PATENTED MARCH 24, 1863.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.—One of the best, and at the same time most simple contrivances for burning Kerosene 001 in a common fluid lamp. It is so simple that any child can apply it, and it will burn Kerosene 001 in any fluid lamp without even changing the wicking. It is one of the neatest things that has come under our notice, and is destined to become very popular with all who use it. It burns the 011 perfectly, with no smoke, and will have many time it soot in a few ments, and for portable or night lamps it appears to be the ne plus ulers.—(Syncuse Courier and Union.

[From the Scientific American.]

It accomplishes the object year perfectly and dispenses with the annowness.

It accomplishes the object very perfectly, and dispenses with the annoyance and expense of the inconvenent climber. A free and steady light, without smoke, is obtained, when a good q, ality of oll is used. The invention co-sists in apply not the metalic burner, to the tube of the Lamp, the burner is simply slipped over this, and can be easily adjusted to any fluid lamp; thus equipped, coal oil can be burned in it as readily as fluid. The burner should be allowed to proceed above the top of the tube a distance equal to the diameter of it, or about 3-life of mich; and the wings compoing the attachment, must be separated so as to allow the division to be just equal to the size of the tube. These lamps are very convenient for bousehold purposes, as they on be carried in the hand in draughts or currents of air without being extinguished.
